to Enliven Your Classroom

THE TRANSLATOR

A Tribesman's Memoir of Darfur
By Daoud Hari

The Translator is a suspenseful, harrowing, and deeply moving memoir of how one person can make a difference in the world—an on-the-ground account of one of the biggest stories of our time. Because he chose language and storytelling as his weapons—while others around him were taking up arms—Hari has given us a true and necessary portrait of a deeply troubled region of our world.

MISTER PIP

By Lloyd Jones

- Winner, Commonwealth Writer's Prize
- Shortlisted for the 2006 Man Booker Prize

On a tropical island shattered by war, where the teachers have fled with most everyone else, one eccentric white man stays behind and reads to the children each day from Charles Dickens's classic Great Expectations. So begins this fable-like, original story that celebrates the resilience of the human spirit and the abiding strength that imagination, once ignited, can provide.

ENRIQUE'S JOURNEY

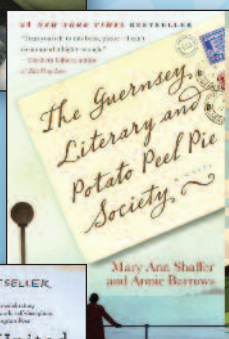

The Story of a Boy's Dangerous Odyssey to Reunite with His Mother

By Sonia Nazario

- A New York Public Library Books for the Teen Age

"A stirring and troubling book about a magnificent journey . . . Joseph Campbell would recognize Enrique's Journey. It's the stuff of myth... [but] Enrique's Journey is true. . . . A microcosm of the massive exodus pouring over the borders of our nations . . . Enrique's suffering and bravery become universal, and one cannot fail to be moved by the desperation and sheer strength of spirit that guides these lonely wanderers. . . . Enrique's Journey is about love. It's about family. It's about home. . . . The border will continue to trouble the dreams of anyone who is paying attention . . . Enrique's Journey is among the best border books yet written." —The Washington Post Book World

THE GUERNSEY LITERARY AND POTATO PEEL PIE SOCIETY

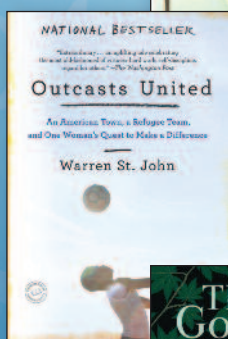

By Mary Ann Shaffer and Annie Barrows

- Selected for SaratogaReads! 2009-2010
- A Library Journal Best Book of 2008

January 1946: writer Juliet Ashton receives a letter from a stranger, a founding member of the Guernsey Literary and Potato Peel Pie Society. And so begins a remarkable tale of the island of Guernsey during the German occupation, an of a society as extraordinary as its name.

"[A] marvelous debut. . . . Reminiscent of Helene Hanff's 84 Charing Cross Road, this is a warm, funny, tender, and thoroughly entertaining celebration of the power of the written word." —Library Journal
"Charming. . . . [Heroine] Juliet finds in the letters not just inspiration for her next work, but also for her life—as readers will." —Publishers Weekly

OUTCASTS UNITED

An American Town, a Refugee Team, and One Woman's Quest to Make a Difference

By Warren St. John

A "richly detailed, uplifting account of a young Jordanian immigrant who created a soccer program in Georgia for young refugees from war-torn nations . . . educational and enriching." —Kirkus Reviews

"Not merely about soccer, St. John's book teaches readers about the social and economic difficulties of adapting to a new culture and the challenges facing a town with a new and disparate population. Despite their cultural and religious differences and the difficulty of adaptation, the Fugees came together to play soccer. This wonderful, poignant book is highly recommended. . . ." —Library Journal, starred review

THE GOOD THIEF:

A Novel

By Hannah Tinti

- Winner, ALA Alex Award
- Winner, John Sargent Sr. First Novel Prize 2008
- A New York Times Notable Book of 2008
- A Washington Post Best Books of 2008
- A San Francisco Chronicle, 50 Best Fiction & Poetry of 2008
- Kirkus, Best Fiction of 2008 list

"Darkly transporting . . . [In] The Good Thief, the reader can find plain-spoken fiction full of traditional virtues: strong plotting, pure lucidity, visceral momentum and a total absence of writerly mannerisms. In Ms. Tinti's case that means an American Dickensian tale with touches of Harry Potterish whimsy, along with a macabre streak of spooky New England history." —The New York Times
